less plaint in a melodious though mournful song.

It is surely here among all these thousands of Yarmouth fishermen, wives and bairns. The upward, far look in their eyes, has come as a heritage of centurits of dolor and loss. The set, stern shutting of the jaws and lips tells better than history can of the endless fisheright against the elements and poverty. For that matter, all old Yarmouth folk have that resolute, hall-defiant expression that tells as plainly as look can: "This is Yarmouth as you see it, because we have battled with the sea a thousand years!"

thread of address, quivering like an endlespisait in a medious untoplus and a survey and the second resting silently 1000 a variety and the second resting silently 1000 a variety and the second resting silently 1000 a variety and and a Yamouth following the second resting silently 1000 a variety of the second first silently of the second si supplanted by fine decked smacks; as is true with the Sahermen of the entire British coasts, barring those of the west and northwest frish islands, where the sacient corrash, or skip-kepled cance, is still in pse, Though long-line and deep-sea fishing is prosecuted by many the year round, and, digring the winter months under the most perilous circumstances known to any fisherman on the globe, the paramount interest at Yarmouth, from the fisherman's standpoint, is centered in the sherman's standpoint, is centered in the herring fisheries of this coast. These made Yarmouth. They sustained the city and the citizens. At the present time if is reckoned that the city increases its population three-fold, and honges 60,000 souls during the "season," two-thirds of this number being drawn here solely for he herring industry. Again, this number is doubled by excursionists and sesside loiterers from the near manufacturing cities, and even from far-away London itself; so that from June until September, it is no uncommon thing for Yarmouth to hold from 100,000 to 120,000 people.

Now as of old the merchants of Yarmouth, Lowestoft, Gorleston and other near coast fleet numbering perhaps and the standard coast fleet numbering perhaps and welman, ret-rope man, net-toyer man, net will find Tutt's Pills the most genial restorative ver offered the suffering invalid.

Starting Facts.

The American people are rapidly becoming a race of nervous wrecks, and the following suggests the best remedy:
Alphonso Hempfling, of Butler, Pa., swears that when his son was speechless from St. Vitus dance Dr. Miles' great Restorative Nervine cured him. Mrs. J. R. Miller, of Valparatso, and J. D. Taylor, of Logansport, Ind., each gained 20 pounds from taking it. Mrs. H. A. Gardner, of Vistula, Ind., was cured of 140 to 50 convulsions a day, and much headache, backache and nervous prostration by one butle, Trial bottles, and fine book of marvelous cures, free at the Logan Drug Company's, who recommends and guarantees this unequaled remedy.
